Allegan Ladder Truck returns to firehouse

By Gari Voss

The buzz around the firehouse on Saturday, August 23, 2025, was not just about a wonderful pancake breakfast complete with eggs, hash-browns, and sausage or the delicious spaghetti supper that followed, but about the 1951 Ladder Truck that was returning to Allegan after spending time in other parts of the state. “This was the first ladder truck that Allegan purchased,” explained Chief Nick Brink. “Floyd Harter was Chief at the time.”

The ladder truck has been sitting in a warehouse for the last couple years. David Chrisco, the owner, had loaned it to the Farmington Fire Department for ceremonies and parades. “Frisco sought me out,” stated Brink. “He had taken special care of the truck, and wanted it to remain a fire truck and not be scrapped.”

The Allegan Department sold the truck in 1994 or 95. Brink referenced a picture in the engine room with the 1951 and 1995 truck that is still used by the Allegan Fire District. “Though the truck was used by the Farmington Department for parades, they liked the lettering on the truck, so it returns to Allegan with the original lettering,” mused Brink. “This lettering isn’t stickers. It is actually gold. Back in the day, they would have an adhesive brushed on then they would add a gold flake. So, the letters and logos actually had gold particles. Farmington called the truck ‘Old Allegan.’”

The truck returns with all the original equipment – ladders, hoses, nozzles, axes, fire extinguishers, flashlight, etc. The equipment has leather handles which is unheard of today. The truck was originally purchased for $16,900. If a modern truck was to be purchased, it would run on an average of $800,000 fully equipped. “Why Allegan sold the truck with all the equipment, I am not sure,” quipped Brink. “Normally, we would not sell a truck fully stocked like that, but it comes back as an original.”

When the 1951 ladder truck was sold to a collector, the original bell was kept and mounted on the replacement ladder truck, 51. It now resides on the current ladder truck 1-57. A different bell is mounted on the 1951 truck, which will keep the tradition of the bell in place on the old ladder truck.

During Chief Brink’s conversation with Chrisco, the agreement was that he would sell the truck back to the Allegan Fire District if Allegan would pay to have it shipped. This required a proper trailer to ensure overpass clearance across the state.

Brink spoke with members of the Fennville Fire Department who put him in touch with Greenmark Equipment, the John Deere dealer out of Holland that they work for. Greenmark agreed to transport the truck for the cost of fuel. It should arrive on Monday, August 25, 2025.

“The trailer is really cool because it allows the truck to drive up the ramps then sit low on the trailer,” explained Brink. “When it arrives, we will back it off, and the mechanic will be here on Tuesday to prepare for servicing and minor repairs that may be needed. The hope is to have it road worthy by the Allegan County Fair Parade.”

The Department hope has been that Bruce Hoyer (Former Fire Chief) will be aboard the truck in the fair parade, since his grandfather, Mel Truax, assisted in the purchasing process of the ladder truck. Ironically, Mel Truax’s Cousin Raymond, is the grandfather of Chief Nick Brink. Not only does the ladder truck now remain part of the Allegan Fire District, but those who give their lives to the department to carry on the traditions.

Council approves downtown apartments, water bill possible increase

By Gari Voss

During their August 25, 2025, meeting, the Allegan City Council accepted a Block Grant from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority to create 10 new second story apartments in Downtown Allegan, approved a budget alignment to complete the handicap ramps around town, and heard a plan for extending the Social District. Extra time was spent on an important discussion to review the 2026 projects, the costs, and revenue to cover those costs.

PUBLIC HEARING & ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION

The Council held a Public Hearing then adopted Resolution 25.26 which would approve the Letter of Intent from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) Community Development Block Grant program for $1,180,000 to create 10 new apartments in Downtown Allegan.

The location of these apartments would include four new apartments at 116 Locust Street (next to Lumberman Lofts), two apartments at 115 Locust Street (old Community Pharmacy), two apartments at 138 Hubbard Street (the Office Center), and two apartments at 145 Brady (old Allegan Event Office). Of these 10 apartments, 6 will be made available for low to moderate income housing. That is, those who earn 80% or less of the area’s median income. The funds can assist with second story development in downtown if above an occupied or “White Box” store front. In other words, a space for commercial use that is ready to be leased.

Resolution 25.26 accepts the Letter of Intent and allows City Manager Joel Dye to be the signatory of all documents, materials, and contracts and to act as the Certifying Officer for the Environmental Review which is part of the funds received. The total cost of the project is $1,580,000. MSHDA will cover $1,180,000 and property owners will provide a total of $400,000.

REPORTS

Downtown Development Authority. Parker Johnson reviewed the DDA notes that included Lunabode, LLC receiving a MEDC $25,000 Match on Main to rehab the old Hunter building. There was a review of the signage to identify the city’s parking lots as part of the wayfinding project. The DDA began considering a new vision statement that better reflects the new downtown.

Public Spaces Commission. Councilmember Carl Canales shared that there would be a Rock the Block event at Rossman Park on Sept. 20th from 9am-noon with a rain date of Sept. 27th. Discussion included the use of the Sports Complex by city youth and others from outside the city limits. The Oakwood Cemetery masonry project should be completed this year. The Cemetery Symposium on August 9th went well. The Friends of Oakwood Cemetery continue to explore Wreaths Across America.

Public Works

Handicap Ramps for Sidewalks. The request to approve PO 26-0833 to Weik Bros Inc. for construction of handicap ramps on Academy Street and Water Street in the amount of $102,219.50, and to approve a budget adjustment of $4,719.50 passed.

Director Doug Kadzban reviewed the plans to construct sidewalk ramps at varied locations to follow the road and streetscape improvements. The city had $97,500 in the budget but had to request a budget adjustment of $4,719.50 to cover the total cost of $102,219.50. Some intersections require all new ramps. Looking forward, as the new elementary school is completed, Academy and Arbor will need sidewalks for walkers. By having the city do much of the work, there will be money saved compared to hiring a contractor.

Administrative Services

Paying Bills. The request to approve accounts payable in the amount of $641,261.32 and payroll in the amount of $122,950.75 for a total disbursement of $764,212.07 passed.

Special Banner. The request from Allegan Community Players to place a banner in front of the Griswold Auditorium to advertise The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe was approved.

Update on 2026 construction projects.

City Manager Dye took time to review the projects slated for 2026 and the funding for these projects.

Rossman Park Neighborhood Infrastructure Project. This project will improve the infrastructure for water lines, sewer mains, and storm sewers along with new road surfaces. A $2.5 million grant from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) was received to assist with the cost. Herkimer and Bond Streets will be adjusted to a T to make the intersection safer. There will be no streetscaping to save costs.

Downtown Infrastructure Project (Walnut, Chestnut, and Trowbridge). The project is estimated to cost $4.4 million plus a bit. Trowbridge will receive the same treatment that the other retail streets received during the Streetscape project. This includes new water mains, sewer mains, water service lines to private properties (replacing lead service lines), storm sewers, manholes, catch basins, road surfaces, sidewalks, pedestrian lights, street trees, and street furniture. Walnut and Chestnut will receive fewer extras. The trees will be removed to replace the bulging sidewalks but will be replaced.

Grand Street Water Main Project. MDOT will be coming to resurface M-222 after 2026. The water main and infrastructure will be replaced before MDOT comes to prevent later costs. The anticipated cost is $480,000.

Sewer Lining Project. To reduce costs in the Rossman Park Neighborhood, Water Street and Grand Street, rather than replacing the existing sewer mains, the mains will be lined. Video is currently being made to confirm the sections that can be lined. The anticipated cost currently is $792,700.

Sludge Thickening. The sludge thickener will be installed at the Water Resource Recovery Facility on North Street. Wade Trim is designing the project that is scheduled to go out for bids this winter with construction in 2026. The cost is projected to be $2,410,000.

The projects will be financed as follows:

- The city will utilize $1,974,000 in cash,
- $2,500,000 in grant funding
- $12,760,375 in water and sewer revenue bonds.

There will be an 8% increase in water rates in 2026, a 6% increase in 2027-2030, then 1.5% from 2031-2035. The sewer rates will increase 1.5% from 2026-2035. This will mean an average annual increase of $28.86 per resident.

The bonding process.

Dye wanted to make sure that the council understood the bonding process. A Bond Attorney and a Bond Council will be employed to complete a notice of intent. On October 13th, if approved, the bond process will begin. There is a 45 day bonding period during which time the design project will continue. Bond Resolutions will be approved after the holidays then the city will wait for the bidding on the bonds by bond purchasers. It is expected that the bonding process will be done by Feb. 10, 2026. The bids will have been received in January. Therefore, by February 2026, there should be a good idea that the bonds will cover the costs of the projects. During this time frame, the city staff will continue looking for new money to cover costs.

Meeting Cancellation.

The adoption of Resolution 25.27 to cancel the September 8, 2025, regular City Council Meeting passed. This is an annual cancellation so the Council can participate in the Fair Parade.

Social District Expansion. A discussion ensued to consider the request to increase the size of the Downtown Allegan Social District to include Walnut and Trowbridge Streets. The extension of the Social District would complete the loop around the County Courthouse. This route gets people from the current Social District to the Griswold and includes the route for the Holly, Jolly Trolley. Monday’s meeting was just to consider the extension. If it is approved, the expansion amendment will have to be approved by MLCC. It is anticipated that amendments will also need to be made when the new restaurants come on board.

A suggestion was made to add trash cans along all streets because cups are currently being found on the sidewalks where there is a lack of receptacles. Currently, 30 pedestrian sidewalk cans are collected by Republic on Wednesdays. The city staff collects the containers on other days.

Department Reports.

The City Manager asked the council how they wanted to receive updates on department activities. Thoughts covered quarterly reports to ensure quality and to inform residents. In addition, thoughts were shared on how best to inform residents that the reports are available. Maybe these reports could be included in the City Manager Tuesday Open Office sessions. Another idea was to rotate department reports monthly so quality meeting time was conserved.

PUBLIC COMMENT

The resident of 329 Monroe St. thought that the costs for sidewalk improvements could be passed on to property owners. He has lived in other communities where this is done, and it worked well. He also felt that if the Social District is extended to Walnut and Trowbridge Streets, the Council may wish to check with churches along those streets.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY MANAGER

1. Manager Dye shared a map that updates the water service connections. 1,029 have been replaced, 637

- still need to be replaced, and 157 need to be investigated.
2. The Rossman Park Party is being assisted by resident Brandon Gumm and City Intern Mohamed Gabow. The plan is to contact all residents with an invitation to the gathering on Sept. 20, 2025.
 3. Monday, Aug. 25th was the last Fork in the Road.
 4. The Tuesday following the Council meeting on the second Monday, City Manager Dye will have Open Office Hours from 10-11am for residents to stop and share thoughts and ideas. The Tuesdays after the fourth Monday of each month, Dye will have Open Office hours from 5-6pm. These are advertised online and will be included in the Water Bill.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

Councilmember Mike Zeter inquired about the manager of the Village Market Gas Station who at the last meeting had questions about the sale of the county parking lot. Dye shared that the county was taking offers until Aug 29th.

Zeter wondered about the burned out property behind Vitalie’s that has trash around it and an unmowed lawn. Dye shared that this is one of two that should be raised if approved by the City Council.

Zeter also shared that the Allegan Fire Department is receiving the 1951 Fire Ladder Truck that it purchased in 1951 and sold in 1995. Most recently, it was used by the Farmington Fire Department for parades, but the current owner wanted to find a proper place for it.

Zeter’s last query concerned Miner Lake and the conversation to contract with the City of Allegan to connect to the city’s sewer system. Dye suggested contacting Allegan Township regarding the progress of this proposition.

Councilmember Will Walker shared that the Fire Department’s meals were well attended with a nice sum of contributions.

The Allegan Riverfront Plaza has a new feature thanks to a vision and community partnership. The gazebo, between the splash pad and firepit, is complete with porch-style swings that can be enjoyed year around by riverfront visitors. Photo: Parker Johnson

New swing set installed on riverfront

By Parker Johnson

The Allegan Riverfront has a new gathering space thanks to a successful community effort that combined inspiration, local talent, and strong partnerships. Earlier this summer, the City of Allegan commissioned the installation of a custom octagonal leisure swing structure with four porch-style swings, now located between the Perrigo Plaza Splash Pad and the 20-foot-long gas fireplace. The idea was sparked when City Manager Joel Dye and Assistant City Manager Parker Johnson visited a Southwest Michigan community during a strategic economic development trip and were struck by the appeal of a large community swing set along the water. In Allegan, a vacated riverfront space opened by the relocation of Allegan Event’s zip line towers was a perfect fit. City boards, including the Downtown Development Authority and Public Spaces Commission, had been actively discussing ways to enhance the park by filling said space. Meanwhile, Allegan resident Tessa Thomas submitted a gazebo design inspired by the iconic Second Street Bridge as part of the Mahan Park Improvement Project. The design’s character, color, and artistry helped shape the vision for the new swing set.

Building on that inspiration, Dye turned to Brian Hicks at Fabricated Components & Assemblies, a locally owned company in Allegan’s Highland Industrial Park, who agreed to design, fabricate, and generously donate the steel structure. To source the swings themselves, Johnson worked with Country House Furniture, located in Downtown Allegan, who ordered them through their supplier. Thanks to the generosity of community sponsors, the cost of the four swings was fully covered. Country House Furniture, A-Tech Computers, Tan-trick Brewing & Stillhouse, and the Allegan Lions Club each sponsored a swing, making this project a true public-private partnership.

With the expertise of the City’s Department of Public Works, the swings were installed the week of August 20. Quickly, people began making use of the new feature – whether enjoying the splash pad, stopping to sit while strolling the boardwalk, or relaxing to the sounds of Rollin’ on the River, the City’s free summer concert series. The season will wrap up August 29th with Cowboy Angels, a rock group from Bay City. The city encourages the public to check out the new swings while enjoying the final show of the summer. Live music starts at 7pm on Friday and the swings will be available year round for the community’s enjoyment.

Ne-Yo concert cancelled at fair

The Ne-Yo concert scheduled for the Allegan County Fair next month has been canceled. The announcement was posted on the fair’s Facebook page last Tuesday, saying that the cancellation is “due to unforeseen circumstances.” No further information was provided. The concert was scheduled for Friday, Sept. 12.

Class of 1954 meets

Allegan High School classmates of 1954 met on August 13, 2025 for a luncheon at the Grill House in Allegan. Members present were: Gail Brindley, Robert Godfrey, Arene Brown Branham, Marijo Condon Cook, Don Miller, Delores Miner Kelly, Sally Burdick Fairfield, Joyce Strand Galloway. An enjoyable time was had visiting and remembering old times.

It was a busy Riverfront Plaza on Fri., Aug. 22, 2025, for Rollin’ on the River with The Fat Animals on the mainstage. The Perrigo Splash Pad kept children occupied, and the swings in the new gazebo stayed full with lively conversation. Photos: G. Voss

Allegan enjoys another great weekend of activities

By Gari Voss

The residents and visitors to Downtown Allegan enjoyed a wonderful weekend beginning Friday, August 22, 2025, and going through Saturday, August 23rd. The Fat Animals entertained the crowd during Rollin’ on the River while the crowd enjoyed good food, drinks and conversation from the stage all the way to the splash pad.

Saturday began with a wonderful Pancake Breakfast prepared and served by the Allegan Area Fire Department members. Sandwiched in there was the 11th Birthday Celebration at Sassy Olive where artists of every age and skill level purchased frames on Sassy Olive’s alley wall. In that frame, they could create whatever picture or design they wished. Owner Landria Johnson hopes to fill all of the frames before sealing the wall to maintain the wonderful creations.

The visitors and residents could return to the Fire House for a wonderful Spaghetti Dinner. Or they might wander down to the Eagles where the crowd enjoyed a Retro evening to remember the past 70 years. Patrons even came dressed in the styles of the 50s just to highlight the celebration. Then there was the stroll to Mahan Park where Lighting Matches shared their sets of harmonized music with the crowd.

Schools are back in session and Labor Day will herald the end of summer festivities, but Rollin’ on the River will get in one last concert with Cowboy Angels and Music at Mahan will close out their summer series with the beloved Williams Family while Lake Allegan invites everyone to decorate their boats and join the Boat Parade around the lake.

The Eagles celebrated 70 years by retuning to 1955. Those enjoying the festivities often pulled out their 1950s dress and enjoyed a wonderful meal with music that brought memories of the 50s. Photo: G. Voss

At Allegan Fire District Station #1 on Sat., Aug. 23, 2025, individuals, families, and groups from around Allegan enjoyed a complete pancake breakfast and/or spaghetti dinner. Visitors to the firehouse could eat, look over fire trucks and equipment, and ask questions. Proceeds assist the firefighters in doing special projects and events for the citizens of Allegan and the surrounding area. Photo: G. Voss

Music on Mahan moved their concert start time to 6pm to accommodate the earlier sunset. The audience spread out across the newly refurbished amphitheater setting to enjoy Lighting Matches which performed alternative country with vocals that offered a variety of harmonies and acoustic instrumentation. Photo: G. Voss

The Sassy Olive celebrated their 11th year in downtown Allegan on Saturday, August 23, 2025. Friends and employees volunteered by purchasing a picture frame which had been outlined by owner Landria Johnson and friends on the alley wall. Because the space was rather ‘wonkie’, Johnson wanted to create something that would fit the weird spaces. Brushes and acrylic paints were furnished, and artists enjoyed creating and sharing creations with friends. When the paintings are complete, the wall will be sealed poly coat. The future plan is to tie Mandals on the Trowbridge Streets to the pictures along the alley. Special thanks to donors – Steve Tibbetts, Honor Credit Union, Tantrick Brewing, and Leggettville gave donations for supplies, while the Allegan Area Chamber of Commerce and Eccentric Garden gave of their time prepping, and to ACE Hardware in Allegan for providing the thicker exterior latex paint at a discount. “This will continue to put art in Allegan,” stated Johnson. “It is really an historical piece.” Photos: G. Is Cracker Barrel’s new strategy, doomed?

With Congress on vacation for the entire month of August (how dare they) and very little else happening, the Cracker Barrel rebranding hit center stage in last week’s news cycle. The CEO and Marketing Manager rolled out a new contemporary design for Cracker Barrel, and it was meant with strong negativity from many people, as well as a major slide in their stock price.

For decades, Cracker Barrel has been a roadside staple place where weary travelers pull off the highway for comfort food and nostalgia. With its checker-board tables, rocking chairs on the porch, and walls plastered with Americana, the brand has sold more than biscuits and gravy; it has sold familiarity. But now, Cracker Barrel is updating its image, modernizing its décor, menu, and marketing to appeal to younger diners. While that might sound like a smart business move to some, there are real risks that come with such a shift.

The first concern is alienating its loyal customer base. Cracker Barrel built its reputation on tradition, not trendiness. Many people go there because it feels like stepping back in time, something different from the sleek, cookie-cutter restaurants found on every other interstate exit. If the chain strips away too much of its rustic identity in the name of “modern appeal,” it risks losing the very thing that makes it unique.

Another drawback is that chasing younger diners often doesn’t work out as planned. Millennials and Gen Z tend to prefer local, independent restaurants or fast-casual spots where customization and speed are king. Cracker Barrel isn’t going to out-Chipotle Chipotle. By trying too hard to appeal to an audience that may never fully embrace it, the company could wind up in a no man’s land—too modern for its longtime customers, too old-fashioned for the new crowd.

Then there’s the risk of watering down the brand. A chain like Cracker Barrel thrives on authenticity. If the updates come across as forced or gimmicky, they could look like a corporation trying to manufacture cool rather than simply owning what it already does best. Customers are quick to pick up on inauthenticity, and once trust in a brand erodes, it’s hard to win back.

MIKE WILCOX

Finally, there’s a cultural element. Cracker Barrel has long been a symbol of Americana—part of the roadside fabric that evokes long drives, family trips, and Southern hospitality. If it abandons too much of its identity in favor of generic modern design, it risks erasing the very nostalgia that draws people in.

But despite the aforementioned, Cracker Barrel executives believe modernization will bring them a whole set of new customers that might offset what they had in the past. To be fair, executives have watched as Cracker Barrel has fallen in popularity. They needed to do something to keep afloat. But apparently they followed the same ill-advised marketing path as Bud Lite.

Personally, I think they should have went in the other direction- create more nostalgia, create more home cooking recipes. There is a wave of popular television shows, movies and the like depicting life as it was in earlier times. Heck I would place TV sets all over each Cracker Barrel, playing Little House on the Prairie, Bonanza and other television shows.

At its best, Cracker Barrel offers travelers something timeless: a plate of comfort food and a rocking chair out front, a reminder of simpler times. The company would do well to remember that not everything needs updating—sometimes, tradition itself is the strongest brand strategy.

Over the past few years, we have heard the phrases “sanctuary city” and “sanctuary state” many times. In the US, it has become politically divisive because sanctuary cities and states have traditionally been labeled liberal or “blue states” where the Democratic Party prevails. Depending on the circumstances, undocumented individuals, those who are in need of medications or procedures that have become illegal elsewhere, other forms of care, or others who suffer political, economic, or social oppression, were given legal protection from those who sought to apprehend and repress them.

There is nothing new about this. It is a tradition that dates back some 3,000 or more years to the time of Moses. In the Book of Numbers, we read that there were at least six Sanctuary Cities spread across ancient Israel.

In ancient Israel, if someone died under unnatural circumstances or war, such as an accident that could possibly have been prevented, accidental homicide or even intentional murder, it was up to the family to apprehend the suspect and take the person to a judge for a trial. But it was also up to the family of the deceased to settle for what became known as “Blood Money” or to execute the criminal.

Sometimes, it was far more convenient and even satisfying for the deceased’s family to take their revenge without a trial. This is pure vigilantism at its worst. However, if the accused could flee to one of the sanctuary cities, they knew they would be protected from revenge. A proper trial would be held, and the judges would render a decision.

The concept of sanctuary continued into the Christian era. As in the more ancient past, if the accused could reach the doors of a parish church or cathedral, they could claim sanctuary and be placed under the protection of the church. That was sometimes more theoretical than reality.

When King Henry II turned on close friend, courtier, the Archbishop of Canterbury Thomas a Becket, in 1170, three of his knights attempted to ingratiate themselves with the monarch. They rode from London to Canterbury, broke into the cathedral, and found Becket praying before the altar. There, they killed him. Overall, it does not get much worse than that: Murder in a holy, sacred place.

Perhaps the best-known literary example of sanctuary is in Victor Hugo’s magnificent novel, The Hunchback of Notre Dame, where Esmeralda is surrounded by a vicious crowd wanting her death, simply because she is a Gypsy and not native-born French. Quasimodo, swoops down on a bell rope, scoops her up, and shouts, “Sanctuary! Sanctuary!” as he whisks her away to safety. Her life is now safe.

Claiming and providing sanctuary has always been with us, often in different ways. In the years leading up to the Civil War, there were homes along the Underground Railroad where slaves could find a safe haven as they journeyed toward the Canadian border. In Europe during the Nazi era, individuals and families risked their lives to protect Jews and others who were desperate to avoid persecution and death. The best examples are of Anne Frank, and the industrial Oskar Schindler. Just as significantly, but less well known, were scores of diplomats who risked their lives as they signed documents to allow Jews to escape. All of them violated laws that had serious repercussions. It did not matter; doing the right thing was what counted.

At other times, America acted very shamefully, such as in 1939. The St. Louis steamship departed Germany with 900 German Jews seeking sanctuary, first in Cuba and then in the US. Both countries, because of prejudice and fear, refused permission for the ship to land. Instead, it returned to Germany where most of its passengers were sent to the execution camps.

This tradition of sanctuary is still with us, often in different forms. A year or so ago, a man who was wanted for murder, made his way to a United Methodist Church along the lakeshore. He went inside, sought out the past, and asked for sanctuary so he could safely surrender to the authorities. The minister followed the church’s tradition of helping him.

To provide any form of sanctuary always means taking risks. In America, everyone involved in the

G CORWIN STOPPEL

Underground Railroad violated the Fugitive Slave Act, which meant imprisonment or fines for those who provided sanctuary. In occupied Europe, giving sanctuary to the Jews and others often meant immediate execution or a one-way railroad ride to the extermination camps. It means breaking evil laws to do the right thing, regardless of the dangers.

Providing sanctuary has always been a dangerous act. The authorities, both secular and sometimes sacred, do not like it. It is inconvenient to them and gets in their way. They want power and control; they want things done their way. When an individual or family made provisions for escaping slaves to stay on their property, they were defying the federal government. In some instances, they were defying the teachings of the church. In those moments, they were not the ‘good guys’ but the law-breakers who were the dangerous radicals taking the law into their own hands.

Today, the whole question of protecting and caring for the most vulnerable people in our country remains with us. Right now, ICE and Homeland Security, and other federal and state organizations are working hard to round up anyone suspected of being in our country without the right documentation. Their propagandists and supporters say it is to remove dangerous, and always violent, dangerous criminals. They use that message to justify sometimes strong-arm tactics and intimidation, such as breaking up families. And yes, some of the “illegals” as they like to call them, have a criminal record. The majority do not because they were trying to escape crime and gang violence in their own country. Others came to America for sanctuary from political repression and violence at home..

Most of the animosity toward immigrants is based on a four-letter word - fear. Fear comes in many different forms. People are afraid they might take jobs away from ‘real’ Americans. They are afraid their religion or denomination might become too strong and take over. People are afraid property values might drop if others move into neighborhoods. Regardless of how we dress it up or justify it, it is still fear.

It comes down to each individual: Are you a person of courage, or of fear?

The problem of sanctuary is far more extended than we might realize. Hitler began his pogrom of terror by attacking an easy target - the Jews. When no one challenged him or said ‘no’ he continued. The union members, socialists, gays and lesbians, gypsies, and then the peasants of eastern Europe became his targets. He tentatively attacked the Lutheran church, and then the Catholics. No one stood up to him and said that his actions were wrong.

He was so emboldened that his own senior military were afraid to say ‘no’ to him. In the late 1930s, Czechoslovakia had the largest and strongest army on the European continent. When Hitler moved in on their territory, he said that if the Czechs fought back, the Germans were to instantly disengage and withdraw. The Czechs did not fire back, and that emboldened Hitler all the more.

This past Tuesday I talked with a good friend who had posted a notice a friend received from her insurance company who protects her house. It was a new list exclusions that would not be covered in case of a civil war. You read that right - the insurance company is planning for a civil war in our country.

We hope and pray it does not come to that. The best way to avoid it is to stand shoulder to shoulder with those who ask for sanctuary and for our connection with them. The reason question is: Do you have the courage to offer sanctuary to those in desperate need?

Ground Avelo Airlines

Dear Editor:

Sound the alarm: Avelo Airlines has been flying at Gerald Ford International Airport in Grand Rapids, since May. Marketed as “America’s Most Reliable Airline” with regular passenger flights, Avelo has been less transparent about being the first commercial airline to contract with ICE for immigrant deportations. USAspending.gov listed the first 6- month contract nationwide with ICE and Avelo’s contractors, CSI Aviation, for $78.1 Million.

This “Blood Money” pays Avelo to often operate secret unmarked deportation flights, with no guarantee of Due Process or legal representation, for the immigrants involved.

While no news of immigrant deportation flights from Grand Rapids has yet hit the radar, it seems inevitable with the largest ICE detention facility in the Midwest being developed in Baldwin, Michigan!

If the Cruelty of ICE and lack of human decency, appalls you, do something. If you cannot condone the kidnapping of ordinary men, women and children off the streets and their flights in shackles and leg irons to detention centers or deportation abroad, act. Go to Groundavelo.org and refuse to fly Avelo or any airline partnering with ICE to deport human beings.

Write the Kent County Board of Commissioners, the Gerald Ford International Airport CEO and Board Members. Tell them that airports are supposed to welcome people –not to terrorize them. Tell them that Avelo Airlines’ profit from cruelty is morally wrong and a stain on the reputation of the Gerald Ford Airport and the local community.

Conflict of interest at state level - look at Hertels

Dear Editor,

The July 10 editorial about four state legislators married to lobbyists was revealing - and horrifying.

It’s all true about the conflict of interest. Still, voters do have transparency options for lobbyists. It’s not that difficult.

When a pharmaceutical lobbyist for top-tier drugs testifies about their extreme risk and asks for more barriers to competition, most us understand that their first priority is health and safety - not of patients, but of their bottom line.

Wander over to legislature.mi.gov/Committees/Meetings. Choose the House, and you can pick a topic such as Agriculture, Families & Veterans, or Health. These hearings are recorded. The “Minutes” tab and video archives record names of those who testify, the organization they represent, and the bill(s) they address. You can read what they submit under “Testimony.”

Lansing gets even more entertaining if you choose to visit the senate committees. For instance, lawmakers direct nearly half ($38 Billion) of Michigan’s 2025 budget to the Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS).

Director Elizabeth Hertel began at CMH in 2013 before it merged with MDHHS. Lawmakers approved her as Gov. Whitmer’s pick for MDHHS director in 2021.

She now answers to her brother-in-law, Senator Kevin Hertel, in his position as Health Policy Committee Chair.

Before Kevin, his brother Curtis Hertel Jr. (Director Hertel’s husband) served on the same committee from 2015–22. He went on to become Gov. Gretchen Whitmer’s top lobbyist.

According to Wikipedia, “Less than a week after resigning from the Whitmer administration, where he had negotiated the state’s $82 billion budget, Hertel took a role at the nonprofit Greater Flint Health Coalition, which was expected to benefit from the state budget in the form of a $1.5 million grant. Hertel denied that his involvement in the state budget included knowledge of the $1.5 million budget appropriation earmarked for the Greater Flint Health Coalition. According to The Detroit News, the arrangement ‘puts a spotlight on the close, behind-the-scenes relationships between groups seeking assistance from state government and officials in positions to provide it.’ “

To give you a better idea of this dynasty’s scope, the current senator’s father Curtis Hertel Sr. and his brothers also served as Michigan legislators, and one of them in Congress. It would require a book to cover all the bases, and of course the history is still being written.

It’s your government. Keep an eye on it.

Abigail Nobel

State school aid deadlock must be solved asap

Dear Editor:

As we start the 2025-26 school year, I want to update you on a critical issue in Lansing that could impact Allegan County students, staff, and programs in the coming months.

State law mandates that lawmakers approve a K-12 school funding budget by July 1 each year so districts like ours can plan and operate with certainty. That deadline has passed, and no agreement has been reached. Without a budget, there’s a risk of a state government shutdown on September 30, which could delay funding that schools depend on to operate.

At the heart of the deadlock is a proposal to redirect dollars from the School Aid Fund – the fund voters were promised would be dedicated to K-12 education – to other priorities, including road repairs. Many believe this violates the original intent of the system voters approved in 1994 to provide fair, statewide funding for public schools.

If the Legislature does not pass a budget, districts will miss their first scheduled state aid payment on October 20, 2025. For all schools, that payment is a major part of the resources we rely on to:

- Compensate teachers and staff who work directly with students.
- Maintain class sizes and student support services.
- Maintain bus operations, fund academic programs, arts, athletics, and student activities.

We cannot operate indefinitely without these resources. The solution is simple: lawmakers should approve a K-12 budget that safeguards School Aid Fund dollars for their original purpose – educating Michigan’s children. Please join me in urging our elected officials to reach a quick agreement and keep K-12 funding secure.

You can contact your state lawmakers at: <https://www.legislature.mi.gov/Legislature/Legislators> and explain why timely, protected school funding is important to you and your family.

Our students and families deserve a stable, fully funded school year. Together, we can guarantee their learning proceeds without interruption.

Sincerely,
William Brown

Abandoned Wells Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

Volleyball Season Preview:

FENNVILLE
Progress.
That’s what Fennville coach Rebecca Hughes wanted from her team last season.
And her players responded, as the Blackhawks moved out of last place in the SAC Lakeshore Division and made it to the district finals for the first time in several years.
With five returning starters back to lead the way in the new campaign, Hughes hopes there is more progress in the offing this season.
Seniors Lily Achterhof (outside hitter) and Atiyah Chambers (middle blocker), juniors MacKenzie McIlwain (setter) and Ceeley Howard (opposite hitter) and sophomore Marynn Winne (middle blocker) comprise that returning group.
“We are entering the season with a strong foundation, thanks to the return of five key starters,” Hughes said. “Their experience and leadership will be instrumental in our success.
“Our team continues to demonstrate versatility across positions, which greatly enhances adaptability and competitiveness. Our primary focus remains on consistent growth and striving to improve each day by treating every practice and match as an opportunity to learn and develop.”
Freshman defensive specialist/libero Stella Michele is among the newcomers hoping to make an impact.
“We anticipate a solid offensive performance this season, supported by our returning players and overall team dynamics,” Hughes said. “However, we are working to rebuild our defense following the graduation of several key contributors, most notably our standout libero.
“We are optimistic about our young defensive specialist, Stella Michele, who is showing promise and may transition into the libero role as she gains experience at the varsity level.”
The Blackhawks, who finished with a 15-16-3 overall record last year, hope continue the trend of improving their winning percentage each season under Hughes’ tutelage. They also want to continue to move up the SAC Lakeshore standings.
“The SAC Lakeshore Conference is highly competitive, and we recognize the strength of our opponents,” Hughes said. “Last season marked a significant milestone for Fennville, as we moved out of last place for the first time in several years.
“Our ongoing goal is to remain focused on daily improvement, maintain a competitive edge and approach

HAMILTON
Attitude. Commitment. Effort.
Those are the three core values Hamilton has chosen to embody this season under first-year coach Courtney Cronkright.
“Each month, we will put a focus on each of those core values,” Cronkright said. “This month (August), we are focused on commitment and each day at practice we have a coach or athlete find and quote and share it with the whole program.”
By leaning into those core values, Cronkright believes the team give itself the best chance of reaching its full potential.
“A major strength for this group is how well they work as a team,” Cronkright said. “From seniors to freshman, everyone feels respected, so it creates a super comfortable environment for all of them to be successful.
“These girls have been working hard at holding each other accountable, and I think that only adds to the cohesion on the court. I am a new coach to the program, so I am nervous for how they will respond to my coaching style, but so far they have embraced everything I’m teaching.”
Several key players return from last year’s team, including the senior quartet of libero Sophie Blauwkamp, right-side hitter Maddie Jipping, setter/defensive specialist Taylor Heer and middle hitter Izzy Friedriechnsen. Junior outside hitters/defensive specialists Allie VanOmmen and Brooklin Cooper are also back, as is junior setter/defensive specialist Brooke Petroelje.
“We are going to strive to be a strong serving team this season,” Cronkright said. “This group is buying into the toughness of practice and are working on adapting their tempo to become faster.”
It’s a team Cronkright believes can compete for a top spot in the league standings.
“I believe Holland Christian, Zeeland East, and Unity will be the teams we have to look out for in the conference,” she said. “They are all very solid and have great all the way around rosters.
“Our goal is to finish top two in the conference and I think that is achievable if we continue to build on the

HOPKINS
Having a seasoned setter is a luxury for any volleyball coach.
That’s exactly the luxury Amy Funk has as she starts her first season as head coach for the Vikings.
Senior Kylee Sykes returns for her fourth year at the varsity level. Given her experience, she will be relied on to run the offense for the Vikings.
Sykes is one of six returning players for Hopkins, with five of those returners seniors.
Those other seniors are middle hitter/outside hitter Cora Hall, middle hitter/outside hitter Kelsey Burgess, outside hitter Ellarie Baugh and libero/setter Kavy Martinez. Junior outside hitter Leah Williams is also back.
“Our whole team is solid, as all 13 can hit,” Funk said.
Newcomers include first-year senior outside hitter Reid Groenhout.
“We are pretty solid on offense,” Funk said. “Our goals are to win the conference and we have hopes to win another tournament or two after winning the Lawton Invitational to start the season.”

MARTIN Gritty.
That’s the word first-year Martin volleyball coach Shannon Goddard would use to describe her team this season.
“Our biggest strength as a team is that these girls have grit,” said Goddard, who has coached at the sub-varsity level in the program for several years. “They also play hard for each other.”
Goddard, who takes over for Logan Malling, hopes those attributes lead to an successful season for the Clippers, who placed second in the divisional standings and won a district championship last season.
“We’re looking to contend for a conference championship this year,” she said. “We’ve been towards the top for the last five years, and that’s our goal again this year.
Delton is the returning champion, so we expect them to be tough again and Galesburg is always a tough team.”
Five players return from last year’s team, led by the senior duo of setter Torryn

Harris and libero Kendra Goddard.
“We look to Torryn to set the pace of play this year,” Coach Goddard said. “She leads by example and gives 100 percent effort all the time.
“Kendra is a top server on our team and looks to be a key role player defensively for us.”
Senior defensive specialist Jade Hooper is also back, as are junior middle/pin hitter Anna Jager and junior pin hitter Maggie Jager.
Senior middle/pin hitter Marybeth Ritchie also returns to the sport after taking a year off and is expected to contribute in a big way.
“We’re looking for Marybeth to make a huge impact both offensively and defensively,” Shannon Goddard said.
Juniors Mackenzie Schwartz (middle/pin hitter) and Sara Schipper (defensive specialist) join sophomore Millie Schwartz (pin/defensive specialist) and freshman Kylie Myers (pin hitter) as the other newcomers.
“We have high expectations of competing with everyone we play this season,” Shannon Goddard said. “We’re looking to run a faster offense than previous years. And we’re looking to contend for the conference championship and for a district championship.”
OTSEGO
When Otsego coach Danielle Littel looks at her roster this season, the junior class immediately jumps out to her.
“I have high expectations for the team as a whole, and that centers around our junior class,” said Littel, who returns for her second stint as head coach of the Bulldogs.
“This crew of six boasts a gusty libero, a seasoned setter and four dynamic attackers.”
Peyton Johnson is the libero, Maddy Littel is the setter and the attackers are Brooke Smalldon, Olivia Klimp, Mya Engbers and Stella Houseman.
“They are the core of the team,” Coach Littel said.
In addition to the juniors, the senior duo of middle blocker/opposite hitter Lucy Mercer and defensive specialist Sydneigh Mosher also returns.
“We look for Lucy to come on strong this season,” Coach Littel said.
Four sophomores—defensive special Kate Littel, defensive specialist/libero Kit Titus, setter/opposite hitter Emerson Jager and middle blocker Kylee Uramkin—round out the team as newcomers.
“All of these players really work well together and are hungry to win,” Coach Littel said. “Each practice, they impress me with their desire to learn and grow in the game. I think we have to really hone in on serve receive if we want to be able to compete with high-level programs.”

The Wolverine Conference, Coach Littel believes, as its share of those high-level programs.
“I think the Wolverine Conference will be incredibly strong this year,” she said. “Looking at Edwardsburg, Three Rivers, Plainwell and Vicksburg, we are showcasing some top talent in the area.
“We have our work cut out for us to compete with these programs, but I have quite a bit of faith in my girls.”

PAW PAW—The Wolverine Conference portion of the girls golf season began for Otsego and Plainwell on Monday, Aug. 25, as Paw Paw hosted the first league jamboree at Lake Cora Golf Course.
And it was the Bulldogs who prevailed, checking in with a score of 187 to edge past the Trojans by seven strokes.
Niles was a distant third at 211.
Annika Quakenbush carded a one-over-par 37 to earn medalist honors for Otsego. Plainwell’s Ayla Jaeger was second at 39, while Bulldog Avery Selent was third at 46.
“This should be an exciting season between us and Plainwell,” Otsego coach Michael Miller said.

Hamilton swimmers post state-cut times

HOLLAND—The season got underway for the Hamilton girls swim & dive team at the OK Lakeshore Early Season Duals on Friday, Aug. 22.
And the Hawkeyes came away with a record of 3-3.
Hamilton picked up wins over Holland (141-41), Mona Shores (129-57) and Spring Lake (111-72), while falling to Grand Rapids Christian (110-76), Holland Christian (110-74) and Unity Christian (119-67).
Top performances for Hamilton came in the 200-yard medley relay and the 200 freestyle relay, with the Hawkeyes turning in state-cut times in each.
The 200 free team of Keira Volkers, Nora VandenBerg, Adi Garvelink and Alyssa Volkers placed second at 1:46.88, while the 200 medley team of Garvelink, Billie Lucas, Alyssa Volkers and Keira Volkers finished third at 1:58.44.
Alyssa Volkers also earned state-cut times in both the 200 free (2:00.13) and the 500 free (5:27.68).

Allegan tennis wins home tournament

Hosting the Tiger Duals on Saturday, Aug. 23, the Allegan boys tennis team won four flight championships to secure top honors.
The Tigers, ranked eighth in Division 4, finished with 16 points, followed by Notre Dame Prep (No. 9 in D4) with 13, Coopersville with 12 and Portland with seven.
No. 2 singles Ezra Smith, No. 3 Carson Woodhams, No. 2 doubles Wesley Goodspeed/Oliver Burnett and No. 3 doubles Gabe Taylor/Charlie Morris all went 3-0 to secure flight titles. That included a pair of three-set wins by Woodhams, who bested Coopersville 6-2, 2-6, 10-2 and Notre Dame Prep 6-3, 6-7(3), 10-4.
The No. 4 doubles team of Sully Morgan/Noah Willett finished runner-up at 2-1, while Deacon Morgan, filling in at No. 1 singles, picked up a win over Portland.
“We had a great day,” Allegan coach Damien Arthur said. Allegan also hosted back-to-back duals on Wednesday, Aug. 20, and Thursday, Aug. 21.
In the Aug. 21 event, the Tigers beat Lansing Catholic 5-3 and fell to Berrien Springs (No. 3 in D4) 5-3 and lost to Glen Lake (No. 4 in D4) 7-1.
On Aug. 20, Allegan beat Williamston 5-3, tied Traverse City St. Francis 4-4 and fell to Jackson Lumen Christi (No. 2 in D4) 5-3.

ALLEGAN
Some people see the glass as half empty. Others see it as half full.
Allegan coach Carol Gephart definitely falls in the second of those categories.
Because despite the fact that graduation decimated the Tigers’ roster and the team only has eight athletes this season, Gephart is able see the positive in the situation.
“Our small program enables each of our athletes to receive consistent feedback all season in improving stroke and technique and to gain much individual attention so they can improve their individual events,” she said. “This has always been one of the reasons for our success, despite our small numbers.

“I am looking forward to overseeing the same, if not more, amount of technique work on each athlete. As I’ve told them recently, they can’t get away with any stroke flaws now.”
Five of the team members were part of last year’s squad that won a second straight conference title. The championship was the third in four years for the Tigers.
With the small roster, Gephart knows winning another league crown this year simply isn’t in the cards.
“Obviously, we won’t be conference contenders since we won’t be able to fill out events after the loss of eight seniors,” she said. “We are likely the smallest team in the SCC Conference this year.
“But we are looking forward to focusing on individual goals and setting the groundwork for rebuilding the program.”

A pair of returning seniors lead the way for Allegan. Eliza DeLaet will compete in sprint freestyle and butterfly, while Odessa Barnhart will compete in distance freestyle and IM.
Juniors Grace Kelley (fly, freestyle) and Zoey Hammer (backstroke, freestyle) are also back, as is sophomore diver Annabel Roden.
Freshman Ells Penrod joins the team.
“This year’s team is positive and enthusiastic, and we have excellent leadership,” Gephart said. “I expect we’ll have a very fun and successful season.”
HAMILTON
After serving as an assistant coach at Hamilton the past five years, Elizabeth VandeWege is stepping into the role of head coach for the Hawkeyes.

VandeWege, who takes over for Matt Oonk following his four-year tenure at his alma mater, inherits a team that posted another top-10 finish at the Division 3 State Finals last year.
The Hawkeyes placed eighth at the Finals ... after finishing fifth in their all-ways-challenging conference.
“We have one of the best conferences in the state,” VandeWege said. “Five of our conference teams finished in the top 10 last year at the Division 3 state meet.
“I’m expecting some close meets this year in our conference and look forward to seeing what our girls can do come Conference Finals time.”

PLAINWELL

Last season, Plainwell finished on a high note by beating archrival Otsego in a Division 2 district championship before seeing its season end in the regional tournament.

Winning another district championship this season will bring with it a new set of challenges, as the Trojans are moving to Division 1 for the first time in school history.

“Last year was a rollercoaster for our team,” second-year Plainwell coach Megan Black said. “We had to deal with some outside factors that affected our record, but that didn’t stop us from finishing the season on a positive note as we won the district against Otsego, in a tough Otsego atmosphere.

“Now, we’re moving up to Division 1 for the postseason, so we are hoping to make our mark in the new district. Our goal as a team is to play together, be resilient and outwork our opponent in every match.”

A group of four seniors and three juniors return from last year’s district-championship team.

The seniors are Autumn Gravelyn (setter), Lillie Cross (opposite hitter/outside hitter), Sam McDaniel (opposite hitter/outside hitter) and Lauren Marlett (setter/defensive specialist).

Anna Overway (outside hitter), Avery Thorp (middle hitter) and Jordyn Erdody (libero) make up the junior contingent.

“We have a lot of experience and volleyball knowledge with our seven returners,” Black said. “Our team has some big shoes to fill with the loss of our two seniors last year, but we have a deep roster of 13 this year. We’re confident that we have all the tools to succeed.”

The roster is rounded out by junior newcomers Kaylee VanAtter (outside hitter/opposite hitter), Tessie Kiel (middle hitter/opposite hitter), Brooke Lyons (setter/defensive specialist), Isabelle Stewart (opposite hitter/outside hitter), Ashlyn Wolf (middle hitter) and Olivia Huberty (defensive specialist).

“We’re going to be a competitive threat in the Wolverine Conference,” Black said. “The Wolverine will be tough from start to finish again, but our team knows what we are capable of and we’re hoping to finish towards the top (of the league standing).

“This team has a lot of potential and I’m excited to see what they will accomplish.”

SAUGATUCK

As she enters her first year as head coach at the varsity level for Saugatuck, Christina Lewis likes the mix of players on her team.

“This season is shaping up to be an exciting one,” said Lewis, who has coached at the sub-varsity level at Saugatuck for 23 years, including 15 at the JV level. “Our team is anchored by seven returning seniors and energized by three very talented freshmen.

“The seniors have fully embraced the younger players, and the group has bonded quickly. Our team chant ends with ‘family,’ and they have already become just that.”

The seniors mentioned by Lewis include Julia Lowery, Penny Grob, Natalia Laskowski, Ellery Panapento, Chloe Collins, Ashtyn O’Neil and Audrey Rodewald.

The freshmen group is made up of libero Gabbie Cochran, setter Emma Gosler and outside hitter Jocelyn Johnson.

“This is a very coachable group,” Lewis said. “(They’re) eager to learn, grow and compete. With their talent, work ethic and team-first mentality, the outlook for the season is extremely bright.

“The girls bring great energy and have really leaned into my philosophy of ‘Together’ over the past few weeks. It’s shaping up to be an exciting season for us.”

Lewis is particularly excited to see the work being done at setter by Laskowski and Gosler.

“We’re fortunate to have two strong setters, who I consider the quarterbacks of the court,” Lewis said. “Natalia is leading the way, while Emma is learning the role quickly and making great strides. Both bring excellent court awareness and the ability to create plays that elevate the entire team.

“They will be a dynamic duo for us this year.”

The word “dynamic” could also be used to describe Cochran’s potential at libero.

“Gabbie is relentless on defense,” Lewis said. “She seems to be everywhere at once and makes it look effortless. Her energy and consistency will be a huge asset for the Trailblazers this season.”

Lewis, who is returning to coaching after taking a few years off to watch her son kick for the Saugatuck football team, said she’s not sure of what teams will be the biggest threats in conference play.

“Having been out of it for a few years, I’m honestly not sure,” she said. “I will say, however, that I was very impressed with our growth already this season. Don’t sleep on the Trailblazers this year.”

Girls Golf Season Preview:

ALLEGAN

Small but mighty. If second-year Allegan coach Ken Bronkema had to describe his team in three words or less, that just might be it.

Because while he is starting the season with only three players on the roster, Bronkema believes all three members of that trio are capable of putting together strong performances this season.

“Our expectation is for each player on the team to finish in the top 10 of the conference,” Bronkema said.

Junior captain Kaylee Haas leads the charge for the Tigers. This will be her third year on the team.

A pair of first-year sophomores—Emma Hileski and Evelyn Hofmeister—join Haas as part of the three-member squad.

And while three players is definitely a small team, the number represents three times more players than Bronkema had on the roster last year, when Haas was the lone player.

Haas placed 13th in the SAC, which was good for honorable mention All-Conference honors.

“We are working on building our roster and team numbers up,” Bronkema said.

So far, he likes what he has seen from his trio.

“I feel our main strength is our determination towards learning the game and getting better with each practice and round of golf,” he said. “Each of these girls have a positive attitude, and that goes a long way in the learning process.

“I’m very excited for the upcoming season and what our golfers will accomplish.”

Bronkema is also excited for other girls in the school to notice what Haas, Hileski and Hofmeister are doing and consider joining them.

“We’re hoping that others will see how much fun these athletes have playing golf and how it effects their everyday life and want to come play in the future seasons,” he said.

HAMILTON

When it comes to golf—and any sport, for that matter—physical skills are obviously important when it comes to determining the level of success a player and team ultimately enjoy.

But Hamilton coach Brooke Statema knows the mental part of the game is equally—if not more—important.

“This year, our goal is to learn to manage golf courses and manage our mental game,” Statema said. “Skill and technique have been a focus leading up to competition, but throughout the season, we will learn what it takes to stay in control and make smart scoring decisions.”

As she enters her fourth season at the helm of the Hamilton program, Statema has a roster that includes three returning letter winners and five newcomers.

Junior Caroline Behnke joins seniors Evie Boeve and JadyN Fynewever as the returning golfers.

First-year senior Sierra Hutchmaker, juniors Rylee Zwagerman and Bella DeRoo, sophomore Ashtyn Becksford and freshman Aliyah Pitsch are the newcomers.

It’s a group Statema believes has plenty of potential.

“Our greatest strength as a team is positivity and encouragement,” Statema said. “This team works well together without an ounce of negativity or jealousy.

“The area of concern for this year is only having a varsity team with many new faces.”

After finishing fifth in conference play and 10th at regionals a year ago, Statema and her players hope to move up in the standings this year.

“Our goal is to fall somewhere in the middle of the league standings,” Statema said. “We have some strong teams in our conference, as Unity Christian, Holland Christian and Spring Lake will be fighting for first, second and third. We’d love to be that fourth spot, but to start, we’re going to aim for playing our best and learning.

“We’re also hoping for a higher placing at regionals this fall.”

In her four-year tenure with the Hawkeyes, Statema has taken two players to the state finals. She’d love to add to that number this season.

“We continue to have a great group of girls on the team who are ready to work and improve in their abilities,” she said. “I’m excited to see what the season holds for us.”

HOPKINS

Talk about being quick learners.

In only the fourth season of existence at Hopkins, the Vikings placed second in the OK Silver and received Academic All-State accolades.

Russell VanDommelen, who started the girls program after coaching the JV boys team at Hopkins for more than a decade, is excited to see what the team can do this year.

“Our primary goal is to improve our fundamental skills and our strategic approach to the game each and every day,” he said. “We want to compete and have fun.”

The return of five players from last year’s team should help that cause.

The junior quartet of Morgan Brinks, Lily Dehring, Rorey Houser and Kennedy Parson join sophomore Annika Ford as the returning players.

And while this group has competed at the high school level previously, they’ll be asked to fill bigger roles this year following the graduation of some talented team members.

“The fact that we have several returning players is nice, obviously,” VanDommelen said. “But this will be the first time these girls are playing in the top spots of our lineup, so there will be an adjustment period for that.”

Two first-year seniors—Olivia Brenner and Allison Poll—will help provide depth for the Vikings.

VanDommelen hopes it’s a group that will once again finish near the top of the conference standings ... although he knows doing so will be no easy task.

“After our program’s best finish of second place in the conference last season, we will be in a little bit of a rebuilding year this year,” he said. “But all of our returning players have at least two seasons remaining, so we will be working hard to earn our way back toward the top of the conference.”

OTSEGO

The 2024 season was one to remember for Otsego.

Under the tutelage of first-year coach Michael Miller, the Bulldogs not only won the Wolverine Conference title, but also claimed the first regional championship in program history to earn a place in the Division 2 State Finals. Otsego placed ninth at the Finals.

With four players who competed at the Finals back this season, Miller is optimistic about his team putting together another strong showing this season.

“The girls have worked really hard since the State Finals last year to improve and we definitely did that,” he said.

Evidence of that improvement? Otsego opened the season by shooting a school-record 357 for 18 holes when the Bulldogs hosted the Shamrock Invitational. Last year, Otsego shot a 382 at the same event.

“We’re playing good golf, but we feel like the girls aren’t playing their best golf yet,” Miller said. “It should be an excited season with the big goals our players have set.”

Back with experience competing in the State Finals are senior Avery Selent, junior Annika Quakenbush, junior Malania Miller and sophomore Ali Holmes.

Selent and Quakenbush both earned All-Conference honors last year.

“The experience of those four girls and the work during the summer on their game should be an area of strength for us,” Michael Miller said. “They are all excellent players that we expect big from this year, especially Avery and Annika. They are both number-one players.”

Junior Madden Fitzpatrick joins sophomores Addy Maisel and Channing Dobbs as the team’s other returning players. Freshman Mila Garrett and junior Sara McCaw are new to the team.

“We are looking to defend our Wolverine Conference championship and first regional championship last year along with earning a berth back to the state finals,” Michael Miller said.

When it comes to the Wolverine Conference, Miller sees archrival Plainwell as the biggest threat to the top spot in the standings.

“I would look for Plainwell and us to be the top contenders for the Wolverine Conference,” he said. “(The Trojans) have the Player of the Year (in the league) from last year and a great supporting cast, plus a great coach. We are looking forward to battling them all season.”

PLAINWELL

Having options is a good thing.

And Plainwell coach Chris Jaeger will have plenty of options when it comes to filling out his roster come the postseason.

There are 18 players on the roster, including 11 who were with the program last season.

“Throughout the season, we will be rotating players to determine our postseason players,” said Jaeger said, who enters his first season as head coach in Plainwell after serving as an assistant previously. “We do feel we have a good chance to do well in the Wolverine Conference.

“Ultimately, we would like to do well enough to return to the State Finals again this year as a team.”

Junior Alya Jaeger is expected to once again anchor the Plainwell lineup.

Last year, Alya Jaeger earned Player of the Year honors in the Wolverine Conference before placing ninth at the Division 2 State Finals to garner All-State recognition.

As a team, the Trojans placed 13th at the Finals.

Other returning players include fellow seniors Emma Taylor and Harper Johnson, junior Sophia Beck and sophomore Emma Rayman.

“One of our team’s strengths is our experience,” Chris Jaeger said. “Managing the mental part of the game is also big for us. Bad shots will happen. That’s not a flaw in their game, but a part of the game. Golf is hard. That’s why it’s rewarding.”

Newcomers hoping to make an impact include the junior duo of Sam LaBonte and Avery Powell long with freshmen Katherine Jepsen, Addy Lyke, Lillian Youngs and Raygan Truitt.

Chris Jaeger believes the race for the top spot in the Wolverine Conference will be a tough one, with Otsego one of the top contenders along with the Trojans.

“I’m excited to see all the young talent coming in this year,” he said. “We should have a good, solid group for the next few years.”

VandeWege is looking forward to seeing the diving trio of Paskvan, Popma and Miller in action.

“Our divers have made a huge impact on our team the past few years with how hard they work to put a dive into the water clean,” VandeWege said.

Newcomers include junior Paige Kleinheksel (50 free, 100 free) along with freshmen Marisa Patmos (200 free, 100 back), Nora Vandenberg (50 free, 100 free) and Billie Lucas (200 IM, 100 fly, 100 breaststroke).

“I see a lot of potential in my girls and I know that with the right training and work ethic these girls will be able to put up some fast times and scores,” VandeWege said. “A goal for the season is to always work on the little things and to swim smart so that when it comes to races, we can go out and have fun.

“My hope for the girls is for them to see some big time drops for their final meet of the season.”

VandeWege believes the Hawkeyes have what it takes for another top-10 showing at the State Finals, thanks largely to the leadership of the returning athletes coupled with the talent of the newcomers.

“I have some great upperclassmen leadership and work ethic and can’t wait to see that rub off onto our underclassmen,” she said. “My upperclassmen will do their job for the team and win us events, but it’s really going to come down to the depth of my team to help us win meets.

“I’m just really looking forward to continuing the pride and legacy of Hamilton swimming and diving.”

OTSEGO

When asked about his thoughts on the upcoming season, longtime Otsego coach Darryl Belton had a six-word response.

“This is going to be interesting,” he said.

That’s because the Bulldogs have just 14 girls on the roster, with half of those new to competing at the high school level.

Hamilton volleyball faces tough challenge

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

GRAND RAPIDS—The Hamilton volleyball team faced an early-season challenge at the Forest Hills Northern Quad on Monday, Aug. 25.

In addition to playing the third-ranked team in Division 1 in FHN, the Hawkeyes also took on the sixth-ranked team in D1 (Hudsonville) and another D1 team that won a district title last year (Plainwell).

The result was a 1-2 record, as Hamilton closed the evening with a 25-13, 25-21 win over Plainwell following loss to FHN (25-15, 25-18) and Hudsonville (25-10, 25-11).

“It was a very tough night of competition,” first-year Hamilton coach Courtney Cronkright said. “Overall the girls played some really great volleyball and got better as the night progressed.”

In the win over Plainwell,

Allegan soccer ties with Black River

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

The bad news for the Allegan soccer team was that the Tigers didn’t win their home opener against Black River on Monday, Aug. 25.

The good news was that they didn’t lose it, either.

Rather, Allegan settled for a 2-2 tie after Black River scored the equalizer with about a minute remaining to play.

“It was a tough home opener to be ahead 2-1 and then letting a goal in that late goal, but I keep seeing growth and good things from all these players,” first-year Allegan coach Andy Bishop said.

Colby Bishop accounted for both Allegan goals, with one coming in each half. As a team, the Tigers had nearly 20 shots on goal.

Ryan Sparks was in goal for Allegan and had five saves.

“Positives for us included Noah Greig doing what he does, defending and keeping the ball out of our end, while Jacob Clearwater banged around in the midfield get the ball up to a well passing and driving in the zone,” Andy Bishop said. “Sawyer Wedge also had a lot of passes with LJ Dial and Colby Bishop.

Despite the small and largely inexperienced makeup of the team, Belton is excited about the squad’s potential.

“We have a great group of returning swimmers and divers and our newbies are working super hard and after the first two weeks now graduated from the learn-to-swim portion of the season,” Belton said. “We are small in numbers, but I believe we are pretty darn good.”

As one might expect, Belton will rely on his returning athletes to lead the way.

That group includes the captain quartet of seniors Hope Stender (freestyle), Laney Sweet (fly) and Alyssa Long (freestyle) along with junior Bella Xenos (all strokes).

Aubrey Smith (all strokes) also returns, along with the diving duo of Millie Shattuck and Alie Bronson.

“The returning swimmers and divers are going to have to shoulder a pretty heavy load early this year,” Belton said. “But I think this team will be a handful come mid-October.”

Newcomers include Lydia Griffith, Halle Olweean, Kris Slater and Kylee Worden.

“This is a tough group and it’s going to be a lot of fun watching them grow as the year goes by,” Belton said.

PLAINWELL

Having a roster of 14 athletes is a relatively small team for high school swimming & diving.

But for Plainwell coach Andrea Murphy, having 14 athletes seems like a luxury.

That’s because the Trojans had just eight athletes on the roster a year ago, as Plainwell finished seventh out of eight teams in the Southwest and Central Swim Conference.

“I’m pretty excited for this year’s team,” Murphy said. “We actually have 14 participants instead of last year’s eight, so that’s good news.”

Six of the team members are back after competing a year ago.

That group consists of senior McKenna Mitzel (IM, breaststroke, fly); juniors Ellah Anderson (IM, breaststroke), Audra Huberty (diving, backstroke) and Abby Unser (breaststroke, backstroke); and sophomores Annabelle Castaneda (200 free, IM) and Adalyn Miller (200/500 free, fly).

The remaining eight team members are freshmen: Peyton Damink (freestyle), Brecken DeHaan (IM, breaststroke), Abbie Hansen (diving), Sylar Luckett (sprint freestyle), Ella McMeeken (freestyle), McKayla Oele (diving), Emily Skinner (freestyle) and Sophia VanHeest (200/500 freestyle, backstroke).

“We are a very young team, composed of mostly freshmen,” Murphy said. “So we have a lot of learning to do and training ahead of us. But I think we should be pretty competitive with the rest of our league, which will be nice.”

Speaking of the league, believes VanHeest, DeHaan, Luckett and Skinner are among the Trojans who could vie for high finishes at the conference meet.

WAYLAND

Longtime Wayland coach Seth Beat has high hopes for the upcoming season.

“My goal for this season is for our team to finish at .500 or better (in dual meets), break school records and qualify for the state meet in all relays and as many individual events as possible,” he said.

Beat’s level of excitement stems from the fact that the Wildcats are welcoming back several athletes who had strong showings in 2024 and adding several talented newcomers to the mix.

“We have many returning athletes who were top performers last season, earning top eight at the conference meet and/or were state qualifiers,” Beat said. “We are also very fortunate to have many new freshmen join us this year who are showing talent in many areas.”

That group of freshmen includes Jocelyn Dzierzyc, Jasmin Garcia, Peyton Mathis, Abigail Quintino, Rosemarie Stack and Sawyer Whisenant.

Senior Laney Wolf, who has several state championships to her credit, leads the list of returning athletes. Other seniors on the team include Maizie Bollone, Kendra Moore, Alyna Rookus,

Raeanna Stallard and Sybil Williamson.

Juniors Briseida Bernal Pumay, Stella VanWyk and Kaeli Whip are also on the roster, along with sophomores Adah Kasprovicz, Ariana Longstreet, Aubrey Messer, Zoey Shafer and Molly Stack.

“We are strong in the sense that we have many returning state qualifiers from last season,” Beat said. “Our diving program is also growing.

“We hope to have many All-Conference athletes and finish in the middle to the top of the conference this year.”

Plainwell orthodontist faces child exploitation charges

Faces in the Crowd

A West Michigan orthodontist is facing a slew of federal charges related to child exploitation, a U.S. Attorney announced Wednesday. It's not the first time for Thomas Shannon.

Shannon, 43, of Byron Township, was arrested in Frankfort, Michigan, for charges of attempted receipt of child pornography, receipt of child pornography, possession of child pornography, attempted sexual exploitation of a minor and sexual exploitation of a minor.

Shannon is also facing 2023 charges from state officials. He's accused of two counts of possessing child sexually abusive material and two counts of using computers to commit a crime. He posted his $20,000 bond in March 2023.

That case is going to trial in Kent County in November.

Shannon ran Shannon Orthodontics, which had locations in both Grandville and Plainwell. The practices shut down in 2023 following his initial arrest.

The Kent County Sheriff's Office first interviewed Shannon at his orthodontics practice in 2023, asking him if he remembered messaging a minor through the app Snapchat in 2021. Detectives said Shannon replied, "Possibly, yes."

The detective went on to ask if Shannon had asked for photos or images of the girl in exchange for money. Shannon ended the interview after saying, "If it happened, obviously it is all there and I have to fess up to it."

Shannon then hired a computer forensics investigator to take a look at his iPhone and iCloud accounts to show there was no child pornography, court document say.

Instead, the investigator reported discovering a "large amount" of child pornography.

Detectives said they found records dating back to 2019 showing Shannon had been communicating and soliciting known minors online for sexually explicit photos and videos, and on a few occasions, attempting to meet up with those children to have sex.

The investigation into Shannon began in January 2021 when a North Carolina therapist reported to police that a 16-year-old patient sent an explicit image of herself to a man on Snapchat.

Police spoke to the victim, who told officers the man's Snapchat and CashApp usernames. These were linked to Shannon's phone.

Police obtained Shannon's Snapchat records. They showed Shannon saying he would pay "$5 per bikini pic" and that the minor could "make as much as [she] want[s]." The pair agreed on $10 for nude photos. The minor sent him explicit photos—not of herself—that she found online, but cropped the faces out.

Shannon apparently asked if the minor had any photos or videos from "8th or 9th grade?" which he would purchase for $150.

CashApp records show $125 and $20 charges on Shannon's account on that day.

Police found numerous files of explicit child pornography on his phone, depicting 10-year-olds having sex with each other and victims as young as infants. They also discovered payments to Ryan Hine—a Missouri man who pleaded guilty to advertising child pornography—and found more explicit videos sent by Hine.

Investigators discovered Snapchat logs with a 16-year-old girl who sent him explicit videos and images in exchange for money. CashApp records show he paid her nearly $2,000 over 39 transactions from January 2021 to March 2022.

Records showed a conversation with another 16-year-old from North Carolina. Messages show Shannon coaching the teen to send him explicit videos, offering $3 for bikini photos, $5 for nude photos and more for videos. One night, he sent her $157 in payments through CashApp.

Another conversation was with a 12-year-old in Tennessee. Messages show Shannon coaching her to send explicit pictures.

Then, in July 2024, a Maryland father searched his 13-year-old daughter's phone when she was acting strange. On it, he found explicit photos and videos she'd sent to Shannon's phone. He also found screenshots of them when they met on a chat roulette site, court documents say.

Shannon apparently spoke about meeting up with the child for sex, and the two would Facetime while Shannon was on his boat in Grand Haven, police say.

This was while Shannon was out on bond for his previous child porn charges.

If convicted for all five federal charges, Shannon could face a sentence of up to 120 years in prison.

His dentist license is still active until May 2027, according to the Michigan Licensing and Regulatory Affairs website.

Some people create a Bucket List of the things they want to do and places they want to go before they pass away (i.e. Kick the Bucket.) This week's question: "What is your end of August list of things you want to do before September 1?"

-Young girl with her mother near the grocery store in Fennville. She motioned me to move closer and whispered: "I've saved up my baby sitting money so I can take Momma to the Root Beer Barrel for a hot dog! She said we could go there today."

-Older couple, same location. Man, "Nothing I guess. We're getting too old for stuff like that." The woman nodded in agreement, then added, "Been there; done that."

-Man near the Blue Goose: "I still need to get the shed painted. I'm waiting for that sweet spot. You know, when weather not too cold or hot." His friends laughed, "You've been saying that for a couple of years." First man, again, "And don't forget I got to wait for the boards to be dry, too." Both laugh.

-Couple near the Allegan Public Library: Man: "Nothing this year." Woman, "We're hoarding every penny we can 'cause things are going to get a lot worse."

-Man near the Old Jail Museum: "Oh, the grandkids want to go to the water park up north. I said I'd take them because, well, when I'm gone, they'll have some memories of things we done together. Leastwise, I hope they do."

-Woman near the Huntingdon Bank: "Would you believe that me and Mom still can peaches. We've been doing it together for years."

-Friend with her: "And don't forget we've got to take the kids school shopping."

-First woman: "Say, that's right! My son said he didn't like those #2 pencils he had last year, so I'm going to see if they have some #1's."

-Friend: "They DON'T even make a #1 pencil. He's pulling your leg. Again."

-Couple near the Allegan Post Office: Woman: "I think things are sort of winding down for the summer, and then we'll have the fair." Man: "Parker [Johnson] has done a wonderful job with entertainment for the town." Woman: "He sure has. He always done."

ACLAC celebrates 13 years

By John Raffel
Correspondent

ALLEGAN — Former Allegan County commissioner chairman Jim Storey reports one of the more popular initiatives to smooth Allegan County's judicial processes, the Allegan County Legal Assistance Center (ACLAC), is celebrating "13 years of access to justice" and a new courthouse location.

"Previously located in the courthouse's basement, which some patrons found hard to find, the county's courthouse modernization, underway since last year, allowed the center to move to the first floor near the building's entrance," Storey wrote in his weekly report. "Since its founding by Circuit Court Judge Margaret Zuzich Bakker and others concerned about litigants having access to legal information in civil, not criminal, matters, ACLAC's volunteer staff has assisted 33,752 patrons."

"Last month alone ACLAC served 289 patrons needing legal aid. The center provides directions for those who have a court matter but cannot afford an attorney for a civil case. Center staff, many of whom are law students, do not give legal advice, but rather provide information on how to prepare for a court appearance."

Storey added: "One unexpected public benefit of ACLAC's new location at the building's entrance is offering directions to the other offices in the building for all those new to the Courthouse layout, whether they are seeking ACLAC assistance. ACLAC is a non-profit organization funded by donations."

The annual fundraiser and award ceremony is September 23 from 5:30 to 7:30 pm at the Fox Creek Homestead of Steve and Cheri Schulz, 3255 118th Ave., Allegan, MI 49010. Admission is $50 for music, food, and networking. Tickets can be purchased by mailing ACLAC, 113 Chestnut Street, Allegan, MI 49010.

Participants, coaches sought for Total Trek challenge

By Gari Voss

Giving elementary youth the skills and strategies to stay focused on healthy life skills has been a goal of parents and teachers before written history. The world throws so many challenges at these young people that it is difficult to defer all of the negatives. But no one is giving up on building the self-confidence of youth so that when difficult situations arise, they can make a decision that is healthy for them and others. But it takes caring adults to assist in this quest.

In 1996, Molly Barker organized the first Girls on the Run in Charlotte, North Carolina. Using a self-designed, research-based curriculum, Barker sought to positively influence young girls with programming that combined running with experiential life lessons. That is, lessons that would build resilience, so that when negative societal influences hit, they would have healthy coping mechanisms. The curriculum spread and Girls on the Run events featuring girls in 3rd -8th grades can be found all over the United States each spring.

But these events did not include boys who also needed to build a tool belt of skills and strategies to say no and resist peer pressure when encountering unhealthy situations.

In 2005, Total Trek Quest came to life in Holland, MI. Finally, boys in grades 3-5 could meet twice a week after school for 9 weeks to work at mastering a 5K while developing the life skills that could assist them in conquering the pressures encountered in later middle school and early high school.

What originally began in Pathways Rehab focusing on prevention was transitioned to Arbor Circle with Leigh Moerdyke's assistance. Under the auspice of Arbor Circle, Total Trek Quest found purchase in elementary schools across five counties – Ottawa, Kent, Newaygo, Muskegon, and Allegan.

Zach Yokom, Youth Prevention Services Manager for Arbor Circle shared, "TTQ runs during the fall and spring and is made possible by community members who dedicate their time to coaching and volunteering. Each year, more than 150 volunteer coaches are needed."

Yokom quickly added, "You don't have to be a runner to be a coach! And for those who are unable to do the after school program, there are sponsorship opportunities to ensure that all boys who desire to participate can."

As the 2025-2026 school year approaches, the Total Trek Quest team of seven is working to contact 200+ elementary schools across the five counties. The first goal is to find teams of coaches. These teams of two or more must have at least one person who is 18+ and who passes a background check. The coaches will work to gather 5 to 15 boys in grades 3rd-5th who wish to participate in the Fall and/or Spring Run. This encompasses two practices per week for 9 weeks following the TTQ curriculum. If the Fall run does not fit into the coaching schedule or if the coaches and boys would like to do both, there is also a Spring Run that will again be 9 weeks with two sessions after school each week.

The TTQ curriculum gives a practice schedule that includes 45 minutes of 5K conditioning and 45 minutes of interactions to develop experiential skills through games. There are several games suggested for each session plus directions and rules.

Arbor Circle's core team is not enough to coach 200 teams for the interactive 9-week program. That means volunteers are needed in each community for each team. These individuals do not need to be runners, but they do need to focus on getting the students outside to strengthen their physical ability in preparation for the 5K, and to facilitate the games that will develop better self-confidence.

"If you have never heard of Total Trek Quest and would like to see the TTQ program at your school," Yokom suggested. "Please, contact kchan@arborcircle.org or call 616-250-1041."

Individuals interested in volunteering to make a difference in the lives of youth by developing healthy habits, building social skills, and resisting peer pressure can email kchan@arborcircle.org or call 616-250-1041. Coaches will guide 5-15 boys in grades 3-5 through 9 weeks of meetings. Twice a week, coaches will incorporate strengthening and stretching exercises with training for a 5K. During each session, coaches will facilitate activities focused on developing a healthy lifestyle and resisting peer pressure while developing positive relationships.

Each child will pay a registration fee of $50. There are scholarships available to cover this cost by contacting kchan@arborcircle.org or 616 250-1041. The kickoff event will be September 13, 2025, at Lost City in Holland. After-school meetings begin the week of September 15th. The final meeting will the 5K run on November 15, 2025.

To cover scholarships, Arbor Circle encourages businesses and individuals to sponsor a Total Trek team. Individuals and businesses can contact kchan@arborcircle.org or call 616 250-1041.

Man sentenced to prison for hitting, killing bicyclist

The man who was behind the wheel in a drunken driving crash that killed a bicyclist near Pullman last year will spend years in prison.

Joel Rojas-Chanito, 41, was sentenced Monday to three to five years in prison, with credit for nearly a year served, according to court records.

Records show he pleaded no contest to operating while intoxicated causing serious injury. Three other charges — including operating while intoxicated causing death — were dismissed.

The crash happened in September 2024 in Lee Township. Rojas-Chanito

PUBLIC NOTICES

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE Notice of foreclosure by advertisement. Notice is given under Section 3212 of the Revised Judicature Act of 1961, 1961 PA 236, MCL 600.3212, that the following mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at a public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash or cashier's check at the place of holding the circuit court in Allegan County, starting promptly at 9:00 A.M., on September 18, 2025. The amount due on the mortgage may be greater on the day of the sale. Placing the highest bid at the sale does not automatically entitle the purchaser to free and clear ownership of the property. A potential purchaser is encouraged to contact the county register of deeds office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge a fee for this information. Attention homeowner: If you are a military service member on active duty, if your period of active duty has concluded less than 90 days ago, or if you have been ordered to active duty, please contact the attorney for the party foreclosing the mortgage at the telephone number stated in this notice. Andy Ai, a married man, sole owner, ("Mortgagor"), gave a mortgage to Consumers Credit Union, ("Mortgagee"), dated October 30, 2020, and recorded on November 4, 2020, in Liber 4533, on Page 545, Allegan County Records, Michigan. On the date of this notice, there is claimed to be due the principal of One Hundred Fifty-Two Thousand Three Hundred Seventeen Dollars and 41/100 Dollars ($152,317.41) plus accrued interest at 2.875% per annum. Under the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at the place of holding in the circuit court within Allegan County, Michigan @ 9:00 A.M. on Thursday, September 18, 2025. Said premises are situated in the Township of Clyde, County of Allegan, State of Michigan and are described as: The South 208.75 feet of the West 208.75 feet of the Southeast ¼ of the Southwest ¼ of Section 14, Town 2 North, Range 15 West. PEEK AT THE PAST

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

Aug. 28, 1950
Deer hunters disappointed: A good many county hunters who have applied for special permits to hunt here during the antlerless deer season, Dec. 1 to 10, may be disappointed, the conservation department reports.

Incorrectly made out applications may disqualify them. Too many cards are being made out with no signature, address or designation of desired hunting area. Applicants are urged to read instructions on the cards they obtain from license dealers.

The special season, for the purpose of reducing farm and crop damage, is limited to 2,300 hunters in a special Allegan County area between Dec. 1 and 10.

Deer of any age or sex will be legal for 19,500 more hunters from Dec. 1 to 5 in several northern Michigan counties.

Aug. 28, 1975

Allegan volunteer firemen poured thousands of gallons of water into the burning Wedge Oil & Gas Company Tuesday evening and donned Scot-Air-Paks to carry their hoses to the source of the flames that gutted the oil firm and heavily damaged two other businesses and the I.O.O.F. Lodge. (More pictures on page 3).

Mechanic's light ignites explosive fire: A raging fire, apparently touched off by a mechanic's light and spilled petroleum products, heavily damaged three businesses along Water Street in Allegan Tuesday evening.

But six Allegan fire trucks and 29 volunteer firemen, assisted by three trucks and more than a dozen men from Otsego, quickly brought flames under control and limited the heaviest damage to two businesses.

Fire Chief R.G. "Bud" Blanz said Wednesday morning that preliminary reports indicate the fire originated as Eddie Wedge attempted to repair a leak in a fuel tank truck parked in the garage area at Wedge Oil & Gas at 420 Water Street.

Petroleum fluids, apparently a mixture of oil and gasoline, had leaked from one of the truck's tanks into a bulkhead that separates the various tank sections within the truck.

National cartoonist visits his old school: Dave Coverley has such a youthful, devil-may-care look, staff at the Plainwell Middle School gymnasium might have easily mistaken him for a high school student in the wrong building on the wrong day for the start of school.

Instead, Coverley served as guest of honor, featured speaker, native son returning to his hometown after making good in the wide world.

The occasion was the annual kickoff of the school year for Plainwell staff. Following recognition of personnel from all buildings, including new and not-so-new teachers, longtime journalism instructor Kenneth Zelnis came to the podium to introduce Coverley. Zelnis said his former student had the traits of a cartoonist from an early age.

"He was a little bit twisted," Zelnis said.

Coverley draws the cartoon syndicated under the heading Speed Bump. His work appears in some 200 newspapers around the world. Zelnis said Coverley's first book of Speed Bump cartoons will be published next spring.

Coverley gave a crowd-pleasing speech. His style mixed flights of insightful humor with moments of boyish openness. Both sides, the madcap and the serious, came from an honest and unblinkered view of the world. He credited his parents, teachers, Zelnis above all, with helping him along the bumpy road to success.

"I'm a product of Plainwell schools," Coverley said. "I got the cartoon bug in about third grade. Now, I'm in a field where the odds are long against making it."

Fate of volleyball, boys soccer, girls swim remains in limbo: The Michigan High School Athletic Association recently announced that football will move from the fall to the spring, while cross country, boys' tennis and girls' golf have been given the go ahead to proceed as usual.

On Thursday, Aug. 20, the remaining three fall sports—volleyball, boys' soccer and girls' swim & dive—received word on their fate ... kind of.

The MHSAA approved the start of competition in those three sports in regions of Michigan authorized for that activity by Governor Gretchen Whitmer's executive orders. In all other regions, competition in those sports remains on hold.

In other words, schools in Region 6 (northern Lower Peninsula) and Region 8 (Upper Peninsula) are allowed to start competition in those sports since they are in Phase 5 of Whitmer's MI Safe Start Plan. The state's other six regions—including Region 3, of which Allegan County is a part—remain in Phase 4, and therefore can continue to practice outside, but are not allowed to start competition at this time.

The MHSAA's Representative Council was prepared to approve competition in volleyball, boys' soccer and girls' swim & dive in all regions, but was unable to do so as it awaited further guidance from Whitmer's office.

MHSAA Executive Director Mark Uyl hopes that guidance comes sooner rather than later as teams remain in limbo.

"Our Council has made clear it is ready to offer students these opportunities, pending approval from Governor Whitmer that we may do so," Uyl said. "We have been told that within a week, future guidance will address athletic issues that exist in current executive orders. We are awaiting that guidance.

"The MHSAA and Representative Council are committed to following all current and future Executive Orders and safety precautions. However, we need more answers before we can give all of our member schools the go-ahead to play each other again, and the majority of our schools are in regions that are not yet allowed to take part in volleyball, soccer and swim."

RELIGION SECTION

I want to return to the first chapter of St Luke’s Gospel so we can further explore Mary’s wonderful declaration of faith in the Magnificat. It begins, “My soul doth magnify the Lord.” Last week looked at how we apply the word ‘magnify’ to our own life and relationship with God and others. However, we cannot stop there; there is more for us to learn

In effect, Mary is making a clear statement that she is aware of at least some of the challenges she will be facing as the mother of Jesus. She is not backing down nor running away from the dangers and work ahead. It is an unknown future, spooky in many ways, and will be filled with joy and heartache. Her situation reminds me of a very good friend who has faced a number of challenges. When confronted with a new one, she pauses to assess the situation, perhaps swallows hard a few times and very firmly says, “I am qualified. I am capable.” With that, she quietly moves forward with laser like determination and focus.

There are many men and women much like my friend. Some of them encourage others to keep moving forward by their teachings. Others do it far more effectively by example. Hemingway wrote the hardest lesson he learned as an adult was to embrace the restless need to keep going, no matter how broken he felt inside. Then he showed what he meant. Hemingway may have been a complex and difficult person, but his words and actions were integrated.

In his novel, The Old Man and the Sea, he wrote, “Now is not the time to think of what you do not have. Think of what you can do with what there is.”

Sometimes it means we need to follow the advice in his book Hills Like White Elephants, where the hero has listened to much complaining and nervous prattle, finally shouted, “Can you please, please, please, please, please, please, please stop talking!” We need silence to focus. Even if there is no one in the room with us, all too often our voice gets in the way of progress.

The performing and visual arts, like so much of life, including our spiritual relationship with God and putting his instructions to work, rarely come with great ease. Truly great artists might make their craft look easy, but they know the hard work and perseverance. I saw a good example at home, in Pat’s studio. For years, Pat’s sons had watched her paint and admired her talent. In middle age, they decided they wanted to learn, and for a while studied under her. They came to Saugatuck and worked together. Then, after a long week or even a weekend, they would return home exhausted, but eager to continue. It was not long before they were struggling and thinking about stabbing a knife into the canvas. Instead, they telephoned their mother. She listened and quietly told them, “Keep going.”

That is an instruction for all of life, including our spiritual life and faithfully working to be a practical, practicing Christian. “Sempra Avanti!” - always move forward. And we can, because we are qualified and we are capable.
